Amend an Act passed in a session held in the sixth and A.D. 1873, seventh years of the reign of King William the Fourth, chapter one hundred and sixteen, intituled An Act to consolidate and amend the Laws relating to the Presentment of Public Money by Grand Juries in Ireland.

WHEREAS it is expedient to enable grand juries of any county in Ireland to present at any assizes such sum or sums of money as may be necessary from time to time to repair or widen, to any width not exceeding fifteen feet, any towing path and trackway 5 on the bank of any navigable river on which boats have been accustomed to be towed by horses, to be levied off the entire county or riding of a county in which such towing path and trackway are situate:

And whereas under the Act passed in a session held in the sixth 10 and seventh years of the reign of King William the Fourth, chapter one hundred and sixteen, section one hundred and nineteen, such money can only be levied off the barony or baronies in which such towing path and trackway are locally situate:

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and 15 with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. That notwithstanding anything in the said Act contained, it shall be lawful for any grand jury in Ireland to present at any 20 assizes such sums of money as may be necessary to repair or widen, to any width not exceeding fifteen feet, any towing path and track-way on the bank of any navigable river on which boats have been accustomed to be towed by horses, such sums to be levied off all the baronies and half baronies in the county or riding of the county in 25 which such towing path and trackway are situate; and such sums so to be levied may be originally presented for at the presentment sessions held in and for the barony in which such towing path and trackway are locally situate.
